

Shaune Tiffany

Solar Contracts Manager

Hi, I'm Shaune or 'Solar Shaune' as I'm known to my colleagues.

My journey at LMF started over 2 years ago as a subcontractor and quickly transitioned into being employed directly by them. They helped develop my skills, knowledge and passion for renewable energy. They helped me grow into a supervisor looking after the installation of Solar PV systems across the company from ECO4 to private with battery storage. They then supported my progression even further by promoting me to Solar PV Project Manager. I now look after their Solar Together and private contracts ensuring everything runs smoothly from design to installation.

I have worked for many different companies but LMF stands out miles above the rest purely because of their passionate values towards helping customers who need it.

The atmosphere and culture promoted by the directors are second to none. No matter what support is needed, LMF are there.

I, for one, can say I'm excited to see what the future holds.
