

John Holloway

Sales Executive

My role within the business is Sales Executive, this role consists of me working in close liaison with our various lead generators, making sure all the work that we are receiving from them is fully compliant to the standard required on numerous ECO funded and LAD schemes; once these checks are complete, I then go on to arrange and organise the fitting of the various measures the customer has qualified for. Another one of my main roles includes driving the business to achieve its maximum potential.

I love working for LMF for many reasons, one being how at home I feel when here, the office is a place where everyone gets along and enjoys each other's company and I think this really helps when trying to all reach a shared end goal. The directors of the business are also a main factor in the homely feel I personally think as you are looked after at any given time across the working day no matter how big or small the issue is.

